8. FEATURES OF INNOVATION

1. Enhancing Agricultural Practices and Community Well-being through Innovation and Education:

The Department of Agriculture runs several innovative programs that greatly benefit nearby villagers, farmers, students, and staff of the university. One key service is soil and water testing, which is essential for ensuring the correct supply of fertilizers and nutrients, helping farmers to optimize crop productivity and water management. The department also runs an experiential learning program for students, providing hands-on training in modern agricultural practices. Additionally, the department produces fresh, pesticide-free fruits and a variety of vegetables, promoting healthy, sustainable farming practices. These initiatives not only enhance student learning but also support local farmers and contribute to food safety in the community.

2. Empowering Students through Digital Innovation: University Launches Grievance Redressal App:

Sant Baba Bhag Singh University has developed an innovative mobile app that allows students to directly submit grievances related to campus facilities and services. The user-friendly app categorizes complaints, sends them to the appropriate departments, and provides real-time tracking for transparency. The app improves student engagement, data analysis, and facility management while ensuring data privacy. It empowers students, enhances responsiveness, and aligns with the university's mission to improve the overall student experience through technology.

3. Innovative Student Creations at Sant Baba Bhag Singh University: "Radiant Roots" Soap and Best Out of Waste Art:

At Sant Baba Bhag Singh University, students of the Commerce Department have demonstrated their creativity and commitment to sustainability through two innovative projects. First, they embraced the concept of "Best Out of Waste" by crafting beautiful and functional art pieces from discarded materials. This initiative not only promotes recycling but also highlights the importance of environmental consciousness. In addition to their artistic ventures, students developed a natural soap called "Radiant Roots," made from a unique blend of honey, aloe vera, rose, flavors, and Vitamin E. The soap offers soothing, nourishing, and hydrating properties, showcasing the students' ability to integrate nature and wellness into their products. This initiative demonstrates their entrepreneurial spirit and aligns with the university's focus on holistic, hands-on education. Through these projects, the students exemplify innovation, sustainability, and creative thinking, enriching their learning experience and contributing to community well-being.

4. Revolutionizing Farming Decisions with Agrometeorological Weather Forecasting:

Sant Baba Bhag Singh University has undertaken several innovative initiatives aimed at enhancing the welfare of both students and farmers. One significant advancement is the provision of agrometeorological weather data, which equips farmers with critical information about weather patterns, helping them make informed decisions regarding planting, irrigation, and pest management.

5. Sustainable Agriculture through Vermicomposting: Nurturing Soil, Students, and Farmers:

Sant Baba Bhag Singh University has established vermicomposting units, promoting sustainable farming practices and organic waste management. This initiative not only educates students about the benefits of vermiculture but also enables farmers to produce high-quality vermicompost for their crops. Furthermore, the department facilitates the sale of this vermicompost, ensuring that farmers have access to effective organic fertilizers while also generating an additional income stream for local agricultural communities.

9. EXTENSION ACTIVITIES

The various departments of the University have carried out the tasks that support better education, disadvantaged people's economic elevation, establishing a sense of community peace and several initiatives for societal improvement in partnership with nongovernmental groups and NSS. The University has adopted more than seven nearby villages and pledges to improve the quality and well-being of their people.

1. Free Physiotherapy Awareness, Assessment and Treatment Camp: Frequent activities were conducted by Physiotherapy department to demonstrate the importance of physiotherapy exercises for prevention and treatment of disorders, use of advanced modalities and briefing about the mode of infections. Special free medical and psychological sessions were undertaken by the department for old age people.

2. Swach Bharat Abhiyaan: Department of Education, Mechanical Engineering, Physical Sciences, Environment Sustainability, and management, undertook numerous tasks in the neighbouring communities of the University to contribute in the protecting the environment. The activities include waste management programs, awareness on the use of plastics, water conservation, Tree plantation, Environmental sustainability, and several cleanliness drives.

3. Charity Drives: University organizes frequent programmes that can support financially deprived people in the adopted villages. In this regard, distribution of stationary, books, eatables and even interaction with children of slums of village were performed by the department of Mechanical Engineering, Fashion Designing, Computer Science and Applications, and Physical Sciences of the University.

4. Financial Awareness: Financial literacy programmes were conducted by the Department of Commerce in villages that focused on digital payments, using e-services such as applying for Aadhar card, Pan Card, filing income tax returns, online train and air booking etc., educating about the difference in savings and investments and exploring investment avenues.

5. Health Awareness: Department of Physical Sciences and Life sciences organizes activities related to immunization and awareness about infectious diseases such as Polio, symptoms and possible remedies for disorders such as rheumatoid arthritis. Covid-19, Diabetes. In addition, people were illuminated about maintaining hygiene practices, sanitization, and healthy diet.

6. Legal Awareness: The activities related to legal procedures for filing a case, awareness on Intellectual property rights were conducted by the department of Law in the nearby villages.

7. Farming Awareness: Department of Agriculture provide the facility to the nearby villages educating them regarding the wheat seed treatment preparation to avoid crop diseases and increase the yield production, importance of soil water testing, maintaining the farm records (which may be more than 100 acres) and providing valuable soil health suggestions.
