Reviewer's Comments :-

I gone through your university curriculum & syllabus for BPT course in detail. Everything in this is clearly defined & well explained but I want you to give attention to one or two points. firstly this is a practical course so, please increase your clinical hours for 5, 6, 7 & 8th semester. it should be 2 hours per day for 5th & 6th semester and 3 hours per day for 7th & 8th semester. This will cover your practical hours for the practical subjects like ortho and medicine.

Reviewer's Comments :-

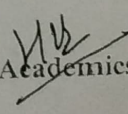

Secondly, give weightage to the number of study hours according to the allocation of marks for e.g. the anatomy subject is of 100 marks & 4 per week practical hours for each subject. You can also decrease maximum marks for the subject of sociology and psychology, as they are of less practical importance in this course as in other university they are of 50 marks each.
No need for General Microbiology lab for BPT course.

Reviewer's Comments :-

For my reading of the syllabus of Communication Skills for B.Sc (HMC), I find the syllabus upto date. As Prof. I will like to give the following suggestions :-

I. More books can be added in the recommended list.

II. As part of the practical class, expert classes can be organized / or small workshop on writing and reading skills which will help the students to expand their horizon of thinking and would also help them in career through the atmosphere in the business sector.

III. The examination pattern can also be attached here along with the syllabus.
